

Concrete surfacing removal method uses liquid spray jet ring for enclosing broken up material for preventing dangerous dust

Patent number: DE19953548
Publication date: 2001-03-15
Inventor: ROTTLER MANFRED (DE)
Applicant: ROTTLER MANFRED (DE)
Classification:
- international: B28D1/18; B28D7/02
- european: B28D7/02, B28D1/18, E01C23/085
Application number: DE19991053548 19991108
Priority number(s): DE19991053548 19991108

Abstract of DE19953548

The concrete surfacing removal method uses breaking up of the concrete surfacing (2) for releasing it from its underlying foundation (1), with removal of the broken up concrete material. The area being broken up is enclosed by a liquid spray jet ring for preventing dust, with removal of the broken up material in its damp condition. An independent claim for a concrete surfacing removal device is also included.

Data supplied from the esp@cenet database - Worldwide